

FAST-CONNECT-ACROSS-BORDERS

Un programa internacional a un clic de su email!

Somos familia!

Saludos Miembros de la SIP,

Fast-Connect-Across-Borders es un programa que conecta a miembros de diferentes partes del mundo y organizaciones. Tiene como objetivo el de crear y mejorar el intercambio y colaboración entre estudiantes y profesionales de psicología. Las reacciones a un programa parecido, llamado “Fast-Connect,” que ya está funcionando hace más un año en la división internacional 52 de la American Psychological Association (APA), han sido muy positivos. “Fast-Connect” ha tenido un gran éxito y creemos que va a ser muy beneficioso para la SIP. Datos de la evaluación preliminar de este programa han demostrado entusiasmo de los miembros, satisfacción, y aprecio al programa. Vean un ejemplo del “Fast-Connect” y Fast-Connect-Across-Borders (Ven las fotos al final de esta presentación. A través del Fast-Connect-Across-Borders ofrecemos a los miembros de la SIP una oportunidad para colaborar con miembros de la APA Div52 International Psychology. Miren el sitio Web de la división 52: www.div52.org para tener una idea de la misión y intereses de la División.

¿Cómo funciona?

- Con la ayuda de un gerente de relaciones, un estudiante (Student), un profesional en principio o mitad de carrera (Early Career Psychologist o ECP), y otro con más de 10 años de carrera (Senior) se conectan via teléfono, email, o Skype.
- El miembro “Senior” entrevista al estudiante, quien en torno entrevista al miembro “ECP” quien a su vez entrevista al miembro “Senior.”
- Cada entrevistador escribe un perfil corto de 160 a 180 palabras.
- El autor del perfil envía al entrevistado el proyecto para ser editado.
- El entrevistado hace una revisión rápida, reenvía el perfil editado, con una fotografía, al gerente de relaciones del trío.
- El gerente de relaciones recoge y da formato a los tres perfiles y los envía a la lista de distribución principal APA Div52 así como a la lista de la SIP. Una copia del trío es archivada en la pagina web de la APA Div52 y también en la de la SIP.
- Miembros de APA Div52 y miembros de la SIP reciben luego un email con el perfil del trío. Nota: En un trío siempre habrá 1 o 2 miembros de la SIP y 2 o 1 miembros de la APA Div52.

¡Por favor, sean voluntarios/as y recomienden a otros participantes! ¡No llevará mas de una hora de su tiempo y los beneficios pueden durar toda su carrera! Si desean participar por favor contacten a Suzana Adams PsyD suzaa@mac.com, con las respuestas a las siguientes preguntas:

- 1- Nombre y apellido
- 2- Email/Teléfono/Skype
- 3- País de residencia y de origen
- 4- Lenguas habladas y escritas
- 5- Mejores horas y días para encontrarlo/la
- 6- Intereses, focos de estudio, pesquisa, practica
- 7- ¿Usted es un/a psicólogo/a de carrera temprana (10 anos desde su graduación como psicólogo), un/a psicólogo/a “senior” (Mas de 10 anos desde graduación), o un estudiante (Si eres un estudiante cuando se gradúa).
- 8- ¿Pertenece usted a APA Div52 – International Psychology?
- 9-¿Estaría interesado en ser miembro?

Ejemplo de FAST-CONNECT-ACROSS-BORDERS

Suzana G Adams PsyD

FAST CONNECT ACROSS BORDERS July 2013 - Issue No.1

WELCOME TO THE ISSUE

APA MEMBER (2013) PUSLA A PhD
 Dr. Susana Adams studied her undergraduate degree in psychology in 1975, completed her master's at the Pontificia Comillas University, and her doctorate at the Complutense University of Madrid. She followed her education with a post-doctorate from the Autonomous University of Barcelona, Spain. Her principal focus of study, research, teaching, and publishing has been, for approximately 30 years, on the history of psychology, specifically of Brazil. This article collaborates with many prestigious research institutions and has been published in numerous scientific journals and books. She currently coordinates the International Network of Researchers on the History of Psychology, which includes a dynamic group of 100 international researchers. Also, she is the Executive Secretary for Brazil, member of the IAP (International Association of Psychology) and the President of the IAP (History of Psychology) for the International Applied Association of Psychology (IAAP). It is a privilege to interview such a prominent, knowledgeable, and friendly leader of the history of psychology in Latin America. Despite all of her work, she still finds time to enjoy her children and, as a great cat lover, to sit on the beautiful beaches of Rio de Janeiro.
 To learn more: www.suzanaadams.com.br | <http://skype.com/psyd>
 Interviewed by Susana Adams, PhD, IAPP Member of the IAP (2013) - International Psychology and Society of Transnational Psychology

SUZANA ADAMS PhD
 Dr. Susana Adams in Brazil has grown up to be multilingual, French, Spanish, UK, and English. She returned to Brazil to work at an UN agency, and is now living in the U.S. Dr. Adams' background studies are multicultural. She has been interested in International Psychology since she was studying philosophy at the Sorbonne while volunteering at a political refugee center in Paris. Her research more developed with APA in 2002 when she participated with David France Psychology in an evidence-based report that addressed the psychological factors related to the experience of immigration. Susana obtained her Clinical Psychology degree from Rutgers in 2007 and is a private practitioner in Phoenix, Arizona, where she also gives general population and international seminars. She is a provider for Office of Refugee and Resettlement (ORR), Refugee Medical Assessment Program (RMAP), and Provider for Human Rights (PHR). She was elected in 2012, Div 12 Member at Large and IAPP Chair. In her capacity, she spearheaded the Refugee, Fast-Connect, and Fast-Connect Across-Borders projects (www.iap.org/psyd/suzanaadams.com). She was recently appointed to IAP/IAAP. This committee provides leadership to facilitate coordination and communication among divisions and between divisions and APA.
 To learn more: www.suzanaadams.com | 2013 APA Convention, Tucson, AZ 11 at Sun at TMB US Ball Building Service, Computer and Cultural/Neuro-Psychological Evaluation for Immigrants from Central America
 Interviewed by Susana Adams, PhD, IAPP Member of the IAP - Society of Transnational Psychology

SUZANA ADAMS COORDINATOR
 In 2010, Susana Adams started her master's program in psychology, with an emphasis on cognitive psychology, at the International University of Puerto Rico. Her interest in psychology emerged after she worked in school settings, working with parents and children. Susana's main interests are in the history, and neuro-psychology, organizational psychology, school psychology, and the application of different psychotherapeutic intervention models. Susana also has a special interest in social psychology and particularly in research involving social experiments such as the Asch and Milgram experiments. In her profession, she works with most of her clients, but she also has access to a more diverse clientele, which she enjoys very much because it gives her a broader experience. Susana's professional goal is to specialize and acquire a doctorate in neuro-psychology. More specifically, she would like to have the opportunity to develop, collaborate, and participate in the research of other researchers. Susana would like to know more about neuro-psychological testing and how she could pursue her goal in the U.S. She would welcome contact from other international professionals with similar interests from both Divisions 12 (International Psychology) and from the International Society of Psychology (ISP).
 To learn more: skype.com/psyd
 Interviewed by Susana Adams, PhD, IAPP Member of the IAP - Society of Transnational Psychology
 Fast-Connect Across-Borders Copyright © Susana Adams, PhD, All rights reserved.

In Latin America professional training in psychology is typically based on the licentiate, a five-year program focused on academic and practical training in psychology. The degree is more comparable to a master's degree than to a bachelor's, and qualifies psychologists to engage in psychotherapy. For more information: Hernández-Guzmán, L., & Sánchez-Sosa, J. J. (2008). Practice and regulation of professional psychology in Latin America. In J. E. Hall & E. M. Altmair (Eds.). Global promise: Quality assurance and accountability in professional psychology (pp. 109-127). New York: Oxford University Press. Please be aware that the category of "Early Career Psychologist" (ECP) means a psychologist, and/or academician, and/or researcher, and/or practitioner who is in his/her first 10 years of career, and the category "Senior" means that this individual has more than 10 years of career. These categories are for the purpose of Fast-Connect-Across-Borders.

ANA MARIA JACO VILELA PhD

Dr. Jacó obtained her undergraduate degree in psychology in 1972, completed her masters at the Fundação Getúlio Vargas, and her doctorate at São Paulo University, Brazil. She furthered her education with a post-doctorate from the Autonomous University of Barcelona, Spain. Her principal focus of study, research, teaching, and publishing has been, for approximately 40 years on the history of psychology, specifically of Brazil. She ardently collaborates with many prestigious research institutions and has been published in numerous scientific journals and books. She currently coordinates the Iberoamerican Network of Researchers on the History of Psychology, which includes a dynamic group of 100 international researchers. Ana is also the Executive Secretary for South America for SIP (Interamerican Society of Psychology) and the President of Div18 (History of Psychology) for the International Applied Association of Psychology (IAPP). It was a privilege to interview such a passionate, knowledgeable, and friendly keeper of the legacy of psychology in Latino America. Despite all of her work, Ana find some free time to enjoy his children and, as a good Carioca that she is, long walks on the beautiful beaches of Rio de Janeiro.

To learn more: jaco.ana@gmail.com - www.cliopsyche.com.br - <http://lattes.cnpq.br/3328632520501565>

Interviewed by Suzana Adams PsyD, ECP Member of APA Division52 – International Psychology and Society of Interamerican Psychology

SUZANA ADAMS PsyD

Dr. Suzana Adams is Brazilian but grew up in Switzerland, France, Spain, US, and England. She returned to Brazil to work at an UN agency, and is now living in the US. Dr. Adams' background studies are multifaceted. She has been interested in International Psychology since she was studying philosophy at the Sorbonne while volunteering at a political refugee center in Paris. She became more involved with APA in 2012 when she participated with Div48 Peace Psychology on an evidence-based report that addressed the psychological factors related to the experience of immigration. Suzana obtained her Clinical Psychology degree from Argosy in 2011 and is in private practice in Phoenix, Arizona, where she sees general population and international clientele. She is a provider for Office of Refugee and Resettlement (ORR), Refugee Medical Assistance Program (RMAP), and Physicians for Human Rights (PHR). She was elected in 2012, Div52 Member-at-Large and ECP Chair. In this capacity, she spearheaded the Webinar, Fast-Connect, and Fast-Connect-Across-Borders projects (www.div52ecp.wordpress.com). She was recently appointed to CODAPAR. This committee provides leadership to facilitate coordination and communication among divisions and between divisions and APA.

To learn more: suzea@mac.com - 2015 APA Convention, Toronto - 8/6/15 at 2pm at 714B CE Skill-Building Session. Competent and Culturally Sensitive Psychological Evaluations for Immigrants from Central America.

Interviewed by Isabel Aponte, Student Member of SIP – Society of Interamerican Psychology

ISABEL APONTE GUZMAN

In 2014, Isabel Aponte started her masters program in psychology, with an emphasis on cognitive psychology, at the Interamerican University of Puerto Rico. Her interest in psychology emerged after she worked in school settings, assisting both parents and children. Isabel's main interests, at the moment, are neuropsychology, physiological psychology, school psychology, and the application of different psychotherapeutic intervention models. Isabel also has a special interest in social psychology and particularly in research involving social experiments such as the Asch and Milgram experiments. In her practicum, schools refer most of her clients, but she also has access to a more diverse clientele, which she enjoys very much because it gives her a broader experience. Isabel's professional goal is to specialize and acquire a doctorate in neuropsychology. More specifically, she would like to have the opportunity to develop, collaborate, and participate in the research of mirror neurons. Isabel would like to know more about neuropsychological testing and how she could pursue her goal in the US. She would welcome contact from other international professionals with similar interests from both Division 52- International Psychology and from the Interamerican Society of Psychology (SIP).

To learn more: i\_aponte\_roxy@yahoo.com

Interviewed by Ana Maria Jacó Vilela PhD, Senior Member of SIP – Society of Interamerican Psychology

Fast-Connect-Across-Borders Copyright © Suzana Adams PsyD, All rights reserved